

iP ST Stereo Multimedia Headset User Guide

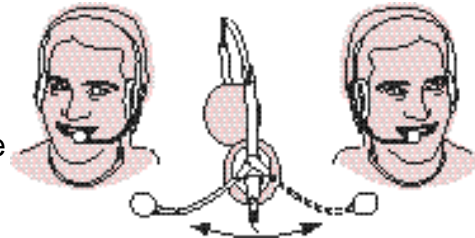

1 Connect iParrott Stereo to Your Apple Macintosh®

Simply insert the red plug into the microphone input on the Mac's sound I/O port, and the black plug into the speaker output on the Mac's sound I/O port.

2 Choosing a Side

Determine which side of your head you would prefer to locate the microphone. Swivel the microphone boom as shown. If you wear the microphone on the left side of your face, be aware that the left and right stereo channels will be reversed.

3 Adjustment

Adjust the headband to fit your head by sliding it in or out. Swivel to adjust the position of the microphone boom and bend the boom so that the microphone is close to your mouth.

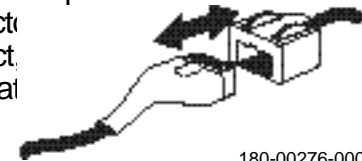

Position the microphone so it is located one finger-width from the corner of your mouth, with the dot facing your mouth.

4 Quick-disconnect Freedom Feature

The quick-disconnect freedom feature allows you to move around while still wearing the headset by detaching the headset from the cord that remains connected to your computer. Just press the rubberized tab on the connector it out of its mate. To reconnect, the connector back into its mate.
